Value of Donated Securities

Your gift of publicly traded securities will be valued for receipting purposes at the close of day market value on the day the security is received in Mission Services of London brokerage account. Although donated securities are normally sold the same day they are received, there may still be a small fluctuation due to the difference between receipt and sale times. This in no way affects the value you will be able to claim on your tax return, which will be the value shown on your donation receipts.
